GST Council Clarifies on SCNs for Same Offence

Anuradha Shukla
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council said enforcement action against a single offence can be initiated either by state or central tax authorities. A move aimed at preventing issuance of multiple show cause notices (SCNs) to businesses for the same offence.

In an office memorandum dated October 20, the council said a taxpayer located within a state is open to enforcement action by both authorities, but all consequential action relating to the case, including appeal, revision, adjudication, rectification and revision, will be taken by the authority that had initiated the enforcement action.

"If a taxpayer is located in a state, enforcement action will be initiated by the state tax authorities. If a taxpayer is located in a union territory, enforcement action will be initiated by the central tax authorities," said the memorandum.

In cases of recurring SCNs, no fresh investigation is required, so they may be initiated by only the concerned jurisdictional tax authority. The authority will be responsible for the taxpayer's compliance. If a taxpayer is located in a state, the state tax authority will be responsible for the taxpayer's compliance. If a taxpayer is located in a union territory, the central tax authority will be responsible for the taxpayer's compliance.

Proposals Sought for 9 Complexes Near Rly Stations

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Rail Land Development Authority (RLDA) has sought proposals for development and construction of nine multifunctional complexes (MFCs) near railway stations in West Bengal, Rajasthan, Haryana, and Punjab for 48 years. These MFCs will offer amenities such as shopping, food, health, book, ATMs, medicine and variety stores, budget hotels, parking spaces, and other urban facilities to rail users, said RLDA, a statutory authority set up to increase assets for Indian Railways by developing unused railway land.

Cos Face Filing Hurdles Post MCA Rule

Pavan Burugula @timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Several companies are facing challenges in reconciling their financial statements due to a new rule introduced by Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA). According to the new rule, companies are mandated to file their financial statements with rounded off values from FY22 filings onwards.

As a result, auditors are required to prepare financial statements of their companies based on rounded off values. Compliance experts say, the change in rules has forced the auditors to prepare two sets of financial statements for this year. This is because in some of the financial statements, companies are required to provide rounded off numbers with previous financial year. However, after financial year filings mentioned all absolute numbers, they are not directly comparable to rounded off numbers from FY22.

Market participants say, the issue is prominent while filing MCA forms—none of the forms that companies have to pay in annual statements. The form still allows the auditors to file the statements with absolute numbers.

When the professional tries to file the AOC 4 for FY 2022, which will include the financial statements for FY20 21 as well, there will be a mismatch between financial statement values for the same year due to difference between rounded and absolute values," said Rishi Agarwal, chief executive officer, TeamLease Regtech. "This can potentially be construed as misstatement of information by the ROC and leads to the requirement of two sets of financial statements for every company, one that is on a rounded off basis and the other on absolute number basis."

The deadline for companies to file their financial statements is 31 October. The increased complexity of these filings along with few other factors prompted even the industry bodies to make representations to MCA seeking an extension of the deadline. The Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI)—professional governing body of company secretaries—also wrote to MCA on October 11, requesting the extension of the deadline till December 31.
